

Life is short. Extend yours.

MINNEAPOLIS, MN (Nov. 29, 2018) – NA Trading and Technology, a distributor of high-performance aftermarket copier parts and supplies, is excited to announce the release of our latest exclusive innovative solution: Ricoh drum unit life extension kits.

Our research found the primary charge rollers in drum units for the MPC3003-6003 and MPC3004-6004 fail long before the PCUs are ready to quit. Simply by replacing the wax bar, charge roller and the cleaning roller, we can significantly extend the post-yield life of these expensive drum units. After they go the OEM life expectancy, install our kit and watch these expensive drum units go another 300,000 copies!

Installation is quick and easy, and extending the life of these drum units will make your service contracts more profitable. An added benefit is that less waste will be created by the office automation industry. Improve your bottom line and help the environment by installing our life extension kits in your Ricoh, Savin and Lanier machines today.
